

Biosketch for Professor Hye Ran Yang, M.D & Ph.D.

Professor Yang is Professor of the Division of Pediatric Gastroenterology, Hepatology, and Nutrition, Department of Pediatrics, Seoul National University Bundang Hospital. She completed her medical training at the Seoul National University College of Medicine with internships at the Seoul National University Hospital and Children's Hospital, completing her MSc and Ph.D. She was a visiting scholar at the Institute of Human Nutrition, Columbia University, New York. She is the current director of the Nutritional Board of the Korean Pediatric Society and Nutrition Committee of the Korean Society of Pediatric Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Nutrition. She has won several academic prizes, most recently the 2019 Young Investigator's Award at 52th Annual Meeting of ESPGHAN. She has published over 100 peer reviewed papers and is the lead author of Clinical Practice Guideline for the Diagnosis and Treatment of Pediatric Obesity: Recommendations from the Committee on Pediatric Obesity of the Korean Society of Pediatric Gastroenterology Hepatology and Nutrition.